Mr. Jared K. Monarch

I am writing to express my interest in working at Butternut Stables part-time. I am doing this to raise some money for my future education. I believe that I'm a hard-working candidate ready to face any challenges this job might present me with. Very likable communicate well with others.

I have been riding for 5 years and my horse lesson instructor always tells me I don't give up easily. During the summer I rode twice a week and I always rode the same horse; his name is Dezi. Sadly one day he started to buck I wasn't prepared for it. Unfortunately I fell off and landed on my wrist. It swelled and bruised; I had sprained it. It hurt to move and everyone was telling me to untack and ~~to~~ try again next week, but that's not who I am-I got back on and luckily he was fine. When I got back on I felt that I had proven to me and Dezi that nobody can knock me down easily.

My experience has taught me to always get back up and try again even if that means failing all over again. I think that I am well-prepared for this position and all the challenges that the position will bring.

Thank you for taking the time to read my letter and I look forward to meeting you soon.

Sincerely
